Of the five books we've looked at, The Highway Rat is my favourite. I like the pictures in it especially the one where the animals were having a party. The book is about a rat who traveled on the highway taking people's food! He ends up in a cake shop sweeping the floor! My favourite part is the bit when there is an echo because it is fun to read. I would recommend it to someone who likes rats. My favourite Julia Donaldson book is The Rhyming Rabbit because I love rabbits.

Baba Yaga
 Once there was a witch called Baba Yaga. She was creepy and cruel terrifying and scary and very very hungry! She loved to eat lots of big and little children. And she had a ugly chicken legged house. It was covered with spooky spider webs and old things were there and it was rusty and scary too.
